You should coordinate and discuss the impact of financial advice with your attorney and/or accountant. ### Item 5 - FEES AND COMPENSATION

Asset Management Services

- A. Fees are negotiable and are not based on a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds. Client fees may be lower than the standard fee schedules.

You may make additional deposits to the Account or make partial withdrawals from the Account. You are advised that withdrawals to the account can affect American Financial's ability to manage the account due to reduced ability to adequately diversify the account, smaller accounts may be impacted more by market shifts, and distortion in the allocation of the assets in the Account. Further, withdrawals may distort the asset allocation and impact the performance of the account. Additional assets of $10,000 (based on a lump sum deposit) or more deposited into the Account after it is opened will be charged a pro-rata fee based upon the number of days remaining in the then current calendar quarter. Alternatively, partial withdrawals in lump sums of $10,000 or more from an account will result in a fee credit being applied to the next quarter's fee calculation. No fee adjustments will be made for Account appreciation or depreciation.

American Financial aggregates or households your managed accounts together to determine your quarterly fee. American Financial may change the fee schedule below upon 30-days prior written notice to you.

Our Fee Schedule

Account Size	Annual Fee
$0 to $1,000,000	1.08%
$1,000,001 to $2,000,000	0.88%

American Financial Advisors, Inc.

$2,000,001 to $5,000,000	0.73%

American Financial's services will be limited to providing administration to execute a transaction specifically requested and/or to include such assets on a report for a consolidated view.

- B. Advisory fees will generally be collected directly from your account, provided you have given American Financial written authorization. You will be provided with an account statement reflecting the deduction of the advisory fee direct from the account custodian. If the Account does not contain sufficient funds to pay advisory fees, American Financial has limited authority to sell or redeem securities in sufficient amounts to pay advisory fees. You may reimburse the account for advisory fees paid to American Financial, except for ERISA and IRA accounts.

The initial fee will be prorated based on the number of days remaining in the calendar quarter and will be billed at the time of the next quarterly billing. Thereafter, advisory fees will be due and assessed at the beginning of each calendar quarter based on the value of the account under management as of the close of business on the last business day of the preceding calendar quarter.

You may purchase the securities recommended by American Financial directly or through other brokers or agents not affiliated with American Financial. If you select another broker firm for custodial and/or brokerage services, you will not be able to receive asset management services from American Financial.

Any advisory fees paid to American Financial will be refunded on the basis of prorating the fees for services that have not been performed. Thereafter, you may terminate investment advisory upon written notice to American Financial. Fees will continue to accrue until the termination of the account which occurs when American Financial is removed from the account by Charles Schwab at the request of the client or when funds are transferred out of the account. Should you terminate investment advisory services during a quarter which would result in your forfeiting prepaid fees, you will be entitled to a prorated refund of any prepaid quarterly advisory fee based upon the number of days remaining in the quarter after the termination date. Refunded fees will be processed during the billing cycle for the following calendar quarter.

Financial Planning and Consulting Services

You are advised that fees for planning services are strictly for planning services. They do not include fees for asset management.

Fees are negotiable. Your fees will be dependent on several factors including time spent with American Financial, number of meetings, complexity of your situation, amount of research, services requested and staff resources.

After an initial consultation for which there is no fee, you are charged a fixed plan fee or may be billed for planning. Typically, hourly fees are utilized when the project or services can't be fully and readily defined by American Financial or where the services are more consultative in nature.

Estimates of time and anticipated fee are provided to you. The fee is billed after the work is completed and you are in receipt of the written report or presented with the analysis and recommendations verbally. Fees are negotiable.

Fixed Fees: Ranging from $325 to $2,500.

Hourly Fees: $325/hour for professional services and $175 for staff time

You may terminate services at anytime without penalty within five (5) business days of execution of the advisory agreement with American Financial and upon written notice being received by American Financial. Thereafter, you may cancel or terminate services at any time upon written notice being delivered and received by American Financial. Should termination occur before presentation of the plan, analyses, and/or recommendations, you will be charged based on the time expended by American Financial and based on the hourly rates disclosed above. Since the billing is in arrears, refunds do not apply.

Item 6 - PERFORMANCE-BASED FEES AND SIDE BY SIDE MANAGEMENT

This section is not applicable to American Financial since American Financial does not charge performance-based fees and, therefore, no side by side managed accounts.

Item 7 - TYPES OF CLIENTS

American Financial's services are geared toward clients who are high net worth (i.e. clients with a net worth of $1,000,000) and clients who are other than high net worth, as well as retirement accounts, trust accounts and private foundations.

Item 8 - METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

American Financial Advisors, Inc.

- A. “The greater the trustee’s departure from one of the valid passive strategies (emphasis ours), the greater is likely to be the burden of justification and also of continuous monitoring.”<sup>1</sup> The American Law Institute Restatement of the Law Third, Trusts Prudent Investor Rule (St. Paul Minnesota: American Law Institute Publishers, 1992) paragraph 227, comment h.

AFA is committed to a passive investment strategy based on more than 80 years of academic research that has determined that more than 95% of a portfolio’s return is the result of asset class selection rather than security choice or market timing. Our clients’ Investment Policy Statements are implemented through the use of a diversified portfolio of asset class funds. Cost, track record, duration of management style and team, as well as expectation of future profitability, are all considered. Only passively managed no-load, low cost, asset class and index funds are considered.

Rebalancing: We review our portfolios for rebalancing opportunities. The goal of rebalancing is to realign the portfolios to their original predetermined and agreed upon allocation, while at the same time being meaningful of transaction costs. We analyze our portfolios on a quarterly basis, usually in the second complete week of every quarter. (January, April, July, October).

- B. You are advised investing in securities involves risk of loss, including the potential loss of principal. Therefore, your participation in the asset management philosophy offered by American Financial will require you to be prepared to bear the risk of loss and fluctuating performance.

American Financial does not represent, warrant or imply that the services or methods of analysis used by American Financial can or will predict future results, successfully identify market tops or bottoms, or insulate you from losses due to major market corrections or crashes. Past performance is no indication of future performance. No guarantees can be offered that your goals or objectives will be achieved. Further, no promises or assumptions can be made that the advisory services offered by American Financial will provide a better return than other investment strategies.

- C. Primarily, American Financial will utilize mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. Additionally, model portfolios may consist mostly or entirely of Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA) mutual funds. DFA mutual funds are not generally directly available to members of the public and generally are only available through an adviser who has been reviewed by DFA. Not all registered investment advisors can access Dimensional Fund Advisors mutual funds. While DFA does not endorse the financial advisors who are permitted to work with DFA, a registered investment advisor who wishes to work directly with DFA must be accepted as an advisor. To be accepted by DFA, the advisor must attend a series of educational programs and agree in practice to comply with DFA’s passive investment philosophy.

The risks with mutual funds include the costs and expenses within the fund that can impact performance, change of managers, and fund straying from its objective. Open-ended mutual funds do not typically have a liquidity issue and the price does not fluctuate throughout the trading day. Mutual fund fees are described in the fund's prospectus, which the custodian mails directly to the client following any purchase of a mutual fund that is new to the client's account. In addition, a prospectus is available online at each mutual fund company's Web site. At the client's request at any time American Financial will direct the client to the appropriate Web page to access the prospectus.

ETFs trade on an auctionable market. Therefore, there is more price fluctuation with ETFs than with mutual funds since ETFs trade throughout the day, whereas mutual funds are priced once a day. Also, since most ETFs only mirror a market index, such as the S&P 500, they won't outperform the index. The risks with stocks and bonds are that their prices fluctuate throughout the day. Stocks can drop in value and become worthless. The risks with bonds are interest rate, inflation and credit risk. Credit risk is the risk that the bond issuer will be unable to make its payments on time or at all, effectively default on the bonds.

If you select another brokerage firm for custodial and/or brokerage services, you will not be able to receive asset management services from American Financial.

Products and Services Available to Us From Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services™ (formerly called Schwab Institutional®) is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like us. They provide us and our clients with access to its institutional brokerage—trading, custody, reporting, and related services—many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help us manage or administer our clients' accounts, while others help us manage and grow our business. Schwab's support services generally are available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to us as long as our clients collectively maintain a total of at least $10 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. If our clients collectively have less than $10 million in assets at Schwab, Schwab may charge us quarterly service fees of $1,200. Following is a more detailed description of Schwab's support services:

Services That Benefit You.

Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which we might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit you and your account.

Services That May Not Directly Benefit You.

Schwab also makes available to us other products and services that benefit us but may not directly benefit you or your account. These products and services assist us in managing and administering our clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. We may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- Provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
- Facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts
- Provide pricing and other market data
- Facilitate payment of our fees from our clients' accounts
- Assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting

Services That Generally Benefit Only Us.

Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- Educational conferences and events
- Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession
- Access to employee benefits providers, human capital consultants, and insurance providers

Schwab may provide some of these services itself. In other cases, it will arrange for third-party vendors to provide the services to us. Schwab may also discount or waive its fees for some of these services or pay all or a part of a third party's fees. Schwab may also provide us with other benefits, such as occasional business entertainment of our personnel.

Our Interest in Schwab's Services

The availability of these services from Schwab benefits us because we do not have to produce or purchase them. We don't have to pay for Schwab's services so long as our clients collectively keep a total of at least $10 million of their assets in accounts at Schwab. Beyond that, these services are not contingent upon us committing any specific amount of business to Schwab in trading commissions or assets in custody. The $10 million minimum may give us an incentive to recommend that you maintain your account with Schwab, based on our interest in receiving Schwab's services that benefit our business rather than based on your interest in receiving the best value in custody services and the most favorable execution of your transactions. This is a potential conflict of interest. We believe, however, that our selection of Schwab as custodian and broker is in the best interests of our clients. Our selection is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of Schwab's services (see "How We Select Brokers/Custodians") and not Schwab's services that benefit only us. We have over $100 million in client assets under management, and we do not believe that recommending our clients to collectively maintain at least $10 million of those assets at Schwab in order to avoid paying Schwab quarterly service fees presents a material conflict of interest. At this time, AFA currently has more than $400,000,000 custodied at Charles Schwab.

Item 13 - REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

- A. If you are participating in the Asset Management Services you will be invited to participate in at least an annual review. Additionally, all managed accounts are reviewed on a weekly basis.

If you are participating in Financial, Retirement and College Planning Services you will not receive regular reviews. American Financial recommends you have at least an annual review and update to any plans. However, the time and frequency of the reviews is solely your decision. Other than the initial plan or analysis, there will be no other reports issued.

Reviews are conducted by:

Leslie Kelly, CFP®, AIF®
Matthew Boyce, CFP®

account custodian. Additionally, American Financial will provide you with a consolidated report of your managed account on a quarterly basis. In return for the referrals, American Financial will compensate the Solicitors for the referrals. American Financial's referral program is in compliance with the federal regulations as set out in 17 CFR Section 275.206(4)-3. The solicitation/referral fees are paid pursuant to written agreements retained by both the American Financial and the Solicitors.
